Mission
The mission of the Nisei Veterans Legacy is to preserve and perpetuate the legacy of Americans of Japanese Ancestry (AJA) who served in the U.S. armed forces in World War II: the 100th Infantry Battalion, 442nd Regimental Combat Team, Military Intelligence Service, and 1399th Engineer Construction Battalion. Through education and outreach, the NVL is committed to ensuring that future generations learn Hawaii’s story of the Nisei soldier legacy. These stories include the incredible sacrifices made by the AJA during the course of World War II as well as their significant contributions to Hawaii’s post-war society. It is hoped that a greater sense of civic responsibility will transpire by promoting community awareness of the values of good citizenship, such as loyalty, gratitude and humility, exemplified by the Nisei veterans.

About the Joint Memorial Service
The Joint Memorial Service honors the Americans of Japanese Ancestry (AJAs) who served in World War II. The NVL sponsors the hour-long service which is held on the last Sunday of September each year. The end of September is chosen because it is when the first AJA soldier died in battle. This year’s keynote speaker is Major General Suzanne Vares-Lum of the U.S. Indo-Pacific Command at Camp Smith. The program will include a wreath presentation ceremony from 16 veteran related organizations. The public is welcome to attend.

Six Nisei Veterans presented Legion D’Honneur

The Legion D’Honneur Conferment Ceremony was held on June 1, 2019, at the Hawai‘i Convention Center. The Consul General of France, based in San Francisco, Emmanuel Lebrun-Damiens, assisted by Guillaume Maman, the Honorary Consul of France in Hawai‘i, presented medals to six Nisei Veterans in a dignified ceremony. The six Veterans were: Royce Higa (522nd FAB, 442nd), Hidenobu Hiyane (100th), George Oide (522nd FAB, 442nd), Clinton Shiraishi (522nd FAB, 442nd), Koichi Tokushige (522nd FAB, 442nd), and Paul Watanabe (232nd Combat Engineer Company, 442nd).

The Planning Committee, consisting of Jeff Morita, Grace Fujii, Mae Isonaga, and Lynn Heirakuji worked closely with the Honorary French Consul’s office to schedule this important event. Jeff Morita has been instrumental in coordinating the solicitation, submission and monitoring of nominations for this prestigious award for the Nisei Veterans.

President’s Message

Dear Friends,

This year marks the 75th anniversary of D-Day. On June 6, 1944, more than 160,000 Allied troops invaded the northern coast of France, overwhelming German forces in what proved to be the turning point in World War II. A few weeks later, on June 26, 1944, the 442nd Regimental Combat Team joined the 100th Infantry Battalion in their first combat near Suvereto, Italy. Together, the men of the 100th and 442nd began a journey that would change not only their lives, but also those of future generations of Japanese Americans.

Under suspicion and bigotry they answered the call to serve their country. They fought with honor to prove their loyalty to the United States. Their wartime accolades are unmatched in U.S. military history. After the war, the veterans had a profound effect on the Hawai‘i community. Many became successful businessmen and community leaders and set the foundation for culture of Hawai‘i today. The Nisei Veterans have undeniably earned the right to be considered a part of America’s “greatest generation.”

Today, in their twilight years after successfully navigating the challenges of life, Nisei Veterans epitomize the definition of good citizens. They exemplify noble values, such as humility, gratitude, and patriotism.

If you ask the Nisei about their values, they’ll undoubtedly acknowledge their parents, the Issei or first generation Japanese Americans. At a young age, Nisei were instilled with such ideals as: giri (duty), oyakoko (for love of family), haji (don’t shame the family), gaman (internal fortitude, bear with it), shikata ga nai (some things cannot be helped) and kodomo no tameni (for the sake of the children). These are basic social principles which we can all live by and nurture within ourselves, our families, and our communities.

The NVL is committed to keeping the Nisei veteran values and spirit alive. We honor all those who served our country with unmatched patriotism. Through the NVL’s educational projects, programs and events, we will continue to share their story with future generations. We hope the values they believed in will live on in all of us.

Warm Regards,
Wes Deguchi
Members of the Nisei Veteran community gathered at the 100th Infantry Battalion clubhouse on Saturday, July 27, 2019, for a day of fellowship and learning.

Event organizer and emcee Dr. Shinye Gima welcomed all the guests and explained the agenda. Representatives of the various sponsoring Nisei Veteran organizations provided brief explanations of their organizations and activities. The Nisei Veterans Legacy was one of several sponsoring organizations.

Colonel Ron Han (USAF Retired), Director of the State of Hawai’i Office of Veterans Services, expressed his appreciation for the contributions of the Nisei Soldiers and explained the services provided by his organization.

Author Tom Coffman discussed the intriguing story of the Miwa family described in his recent book, “TADAI MA – I am Home”. The book details five generations of a family that has roots in both Hawai’i and Japan and their experience in being “transnational” which included surviving the Atomic Bomb attack on Hiroshima and later returning to Hawai’i.

The program highlight was a dramatic story telling of “OKA-SAN,” by Nyla Fuji-Babb & Dann Seki, local actors who created an original play describing a hapa haole man’s search for his Japanese birth mother.

“Kealohapau’ole” (Nolan & Liz Santa Ana) provided musical entertainment.

Hawai’i Tourism Japan (HTJ) made a generous donation to the Nisei Veterans Legacy on May 3, 2019, in connection with their educational program, the Aloha Program. Donations are awarded to Hawai’i non-profit organizations involved with educational, cultural and sustainability efforts.

On May 28, 2019, Lynn and Byrnes again met with HTJ representatives to discuss our continuing relationship and shared desire to share with the Japanese public stories of the Japanese Americans in Hawai’i and the Nisei Soldiers. Potential future collaborations include additional showings of the Hawai’i Nikkei Legacy Exhibit in Japan, assistance in providing Japanese translation capability to the NVL website, and conducting seminars for Japanese tourists on the Nisei Soldier story.

Please call the office for more information: 808 942-0881.

NVL is on Instagram With the goal of attracting interest from the social media generation, the NVL initiated an Instagram account in February 2019. As part of the NVL Publicity Committee, Kristen Nemoto, created and maintains the account. We invite you to check out postings at: nvlichawaii. A new photo and narrative is posted weekly. The site currently has 104 followers.
The GFBNEC/JCCH Pilot Education Initiative reports that 20 high school teachers will be deploying curriculum that features the Nisei Soldier story in 12 high schools across Hawai‘i. The curriculum was developed with input from several Nisei Veteran organizations including the NVL. To date, eight teachers have completed presenting the curriculum. JCCH is currently analyzing teacher and student feedback.

A small NVL crew consisting of Reid Mizue, Stan Matsushita, Janice Trubitt, and Phyllis Hironaka conducted spring cleaning on the Hawai‘i Nisei Veterans Airport Exhibit on April 19, 2019. This activity occurs periodically throughout the year to ensure that the Exhibit is well maintained. The Exhibit is located in the Hawaiian Airlines terminal of the Daniel K. Inouye International Airport and gets a significant amount of foot traffic.

Lynn Heirakuji was a guest speaker at the U.S. Corps of Engineers, Leadership Development Program for mid-level civilians at Ft. Shafter on June 11, 2019. The group of emerging leaders hail from a wide range of occupations and journeyed from Army posts in South Korea, Hawai‘i, Japan, and Alaska. The Leadership Development Program serves as one of the pipelines for filling senior Army civilian leadership positions. Lynn used the Nisei Soldier story and her career experience to discuss the pathways to Federal sector executive leadership.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Lynn Heirakuji also made a presentation on the Nisei Soldiers to Officers of the 9th Mission Support Command (MSC) on June 26, 2019, at Ft. Shafter. Her presentation was a part of the MSC’s Officers Annual Training program.

NVL Website Chair, Bill Wright, arranged for Upspring Media, the Honolulu-based digital and data consultancy which supports the NVL website, to give a 2-hour online training session on Google Analytics to interested NVL Board members on June 13, 2019. The session provided attendees with insight into interpreting the website visitor data toward improving access to the site and encouraging greater and more effective usage of its content.

The NVL conducted its first NVL Advisor Briefing on April 28, 2019. NVL Board Members and Committee Chairs made presentations on the NVL Strategic Plan, progress of the various committees, and other relevant issues. The Advisors suggested that the NVL should seek to differentiate itself from the multitude of other Nisei Veteran organizations in Hawai‘i; strengthen its internal structure; focus on development not just fundraising; intensify outreach to young people; and improve how it communicates. Next steps for the NVL Board include dedicating time to review the Strategic Plan and determining how to execute the Advisors’ suggestions.

There have been a few changes to the NVL leadership. Carole Hayashino has decided to relinquishing her position but will continue to support the organization as an advisor. The first annual State Veterans Summit was held at the Hawai‘i Convention Center from June 21 through 22, 2019. The Hawai‘i Nikkei Legacy Exhibit and Nisei Soldier Post-War Legacy Exhibit were displayed at Ballroom C from 9 am to 4 pm on both days. Byrnes, Lynn, and NVL member Momoko Maniscalco served as greeters.

Aloha to Ambassador Shigeeda

After serving as the Consul General of Japan in Hawai‘i, Mr. Toyoei Shigeeda was appointed Japan’s Ambassador to Lithuania and remained at that post until 2018, when he retired from the Japanese Diplomatic Corps. Mrs. Shigeeda was the person who originally suggested the creation the Hawai‘i Nikkei Legacy Exhibit and as such, she had a particular interest in its current status. The Shigeedas have now returned to Japan and we hope to continue our relationship with them.

Mr. Toyoei Shigeeda, former Japanese Ambassador to Lithuania, and former Consul General of Japan in Hawai‘i.
